Casey Multifaith Network is a collaborative representation of various religions and faiths committed to working together toward the promotion of peace, harmony and understanding within the community. We believe in the dignity of all humanity. Therefore, we defend the rights of all members of religions and faiths to practice and celebrate their own religion and promote their own faith. We respect and honour the rights of others to hold their chosen beliefs. We will model responsible citizenship, respect and friendship through cooperative action and education that promotes understanding and trust within the community.
